OPHTHPAC is the Academy's voluntary, non-partisan political action committee, dedicated to advancing ophthalmology's interests at the federal level through support of select candidates for the U.S. Congress.

OPHTHPAC enhances the advocacy efforts of the Academy by advancing ophthalmology's interests at the federal level through support of select candidates for U.S. Congress. Our strength has helped the Academy to become recognized as one of the most influential trade associations in Washington.

How OPHTHPAC Works

Contributions support pro-ophthalmology candidates and members of the House and Senate. Membership support is important to keep the concerns of the ophthalmic community on the legislative forefront. Generous contributions from members like you ensure our continued professional success by giving ophthalmology a seat at the table when decision makers in Washington consider legislation that affects our profession.

OPHTHPAC Giving Cycle

The Giving Cycle doesn't run on a calendar schedule, but around the Annual Meeting calendar. Contributions for an OPHTHPAC giving year are counted from the day after the Annual Meeting to the last day of the following year's Annual Meeting.
